The Harris Brothers, Bob and Tom, have left an indelible mark on the equestrian world as pioneers in the demanding discipline of endurance riding. Their unwavering determination, coupled with their exceptional horsemanship, has propelled them to the pinnacle of the sport.

Growing up on a ranch in Wyoming, the brothers developed a deep affinity for horses from a tender age. Their passion for riding ignited in their youth, and they quickly discovered the thrill of pushing the boundaries of both themselves and their equine partners.

In the 1980s, the Harris Brothers embarked on a groundbreaking journey into endurance riding. This nascent sport tested the limits of horses and riders alike, requiring exceptional endurance, navigation skills, and a profound understanding of equine physiology.

Undeterred by the challenges, the brothers meticulously prepared their horses for the grueling competitions. Their meticulous attention to detail, combined with their innate horsemanship skills, yielded outstanding results.

Over the years, the Harris Brothers have amassed an impressive collection of accolades, including multiple National Championships, World Championship titles, and the prestigious Tevis Cup. Their victories have cemented their status as legendary figures in the endurance riding community.
